

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The organizing committee cordially invites you to attend the National Conference on “Impact of Emerging Science and Technology on Society: Opportunities and Challenges”, from 29 to 30th January 2019, to be held at the Seth Phoolchand Agrawal Smriti Mahavidyalaya affiliated to Pandit Ravishankar Shukla University, Raipur. The purpose of the National Conference in Science and Technology is to provide a forum for the scientists, teachers, students, and industrialists in the country to participate and discuss the recent development in biotechnology, plant sciences and chemical sciences. It also aims to endorse exchange of innovative ideas and creates a prospect for collaborative endeavors in the frontier multidisciplinary ideas. The conference includes special lectures by eminent researchers from India and also poster presentations. The program will also have a special thematic session on “Opportunities and Challenges” in the way we use technology determines if its impacts are positive or negative to the society.

OBJECTIVE OF THE CONFERENCE

- IESTS is an elite gathering of all academicians, researchers, scientists, engineers, and scholar students who are interested in the conception, exchange, and spreading of novel ideas, information for the use of technology and research results about all aspects of Science and Technology.
- Developing the knowledge about emerging trends in science and technology.
- Discussion about the application in biotechnology, plant sciences and chemical sciences.
- Bring awareness among students, academicians, researchers and industrial persons about science and technology.
- Provide a platform to develop innovative ideas and methods to analyze contemporary issues and communicate their scientific appreciation and understanding to society.
- It offers numerous opportunities for the delegates to exchange new ideas, application and experiences, to establish research relations and to find global partners for future collaboration.

ABOUT CHHATTISGARH AND RAJIM

Chhattisgarh is one of the fastest growing states in India. The city of Raipur is the capital of Chhattisgarh. It is located about 300 km from Nagpur in the East on the Mumbai-Kolkata trunk rail line. It is well connected by air (Swami Vivekananda Airport, Mana, Raipur) with major cities of India – Mumbai, Delhi, Kolkata, Chennai, Hyderabad, and Nagpur. New Raipur is located between NH-53 and NH-30 has been developed as one of the most beautiful city of India and is serving as administrative and commercial capital of the state. Rajim is 45 km from Raipur. For reach there, we need to take National Highway 130 C, 30 km to Abhanpur; from there a left turn leads a narrow but motor-able road to Rajim.

TOURIST ATTRACTION

Rajim is also known as the “Prayag of the Chhattisgarh” for the reason that the holy convergence of three rivers Mahanadi (Chitrotala), Pairi and Sondur, called Triveni Sangam is at Rajim. It is renowned for its wealthy cultural inheritance and the beautiful ancient temples; Rajiv Lochan Vishnu Mandir, Kuleshvara Mahadeva Mandir, Ghatoria Mahakali Mandir are major attractions in the city.

WEATHER CONDITION

January weather is going to be pleasant with enjoyable evening. Temperature varies from 13° to 28° C.
